Zoom Watercolour Workshop

Urban Cityscape

With Rex Beanland

Rex Beanland's work shows all the best aspects of watercolour painting: looseness, atmosphere, simplification, story telling, mystery. The theme for this workshop will be painting urban cityscapes. Rex will be painting a different image each day and will be interspersing the paint along with short mini lessons on how to paint specific components such as people, cars, atmosphere, etc.

Rex has been painting in watercolour from an early age and has in recent years focused on urban landscapes. He is a master at capturing the energy, the people and injecting narrative. Among other affiliations Rex is member of Canadian Society Of Painters In Watercolour, Society Of Canadian Artists and Federation Of Canadian Artists.

This workshop will have 4 hours sessions each day Vs our usual 3 hour sessions. Students may take a break from the painting along while Rex does the mini lessons. Rex will be taking time during the last portion of the second day to review and critique the work of students who wish to take part. Before the workshop George will send out reference photos and a suggested supply list.

Check out Rex's website: <https://rexbeanland.com/> and the attached examples of his work below.
